TINY HEARTBEATS

"A Play through the eyes of four children from opposite ends of the Earth."

Sustaining our World's Children

One Spring day in 1977 I unexpectedly left my heart in East Africa. It broke while listening to children sing in an overcrowded schoolroom. Their tiny voices loudly sang with pride and joy, cracking open my soul's desire to bless all children any way I can. The floodtides broke loose as I unsuccessfully tried to control my tears. At that moment, my true heart's desire rang true. Standing in a schoolroom in Kenya on that sunny Spring day, my purpose became crystal clear ~ serving children in every possible situation. My heart was singing.

After much Soul searching, 33 years later, that purpose has re-surfaced. That is why Tiny Heartbeats is finally giving birth to those children's voices. It is time to give the children what they rightfully deserve. Sustenance. . .

Join me as we honor the sacred in every child and give them the chance to live and grow to their highest potential . . . a chance to sustain their tiny heartbeats against all odds. Your concern and aid will support www.feedthechildren.org and reach children on every side of the Globe. Thank you for connecting your hearts with theirs.
